I'm a fast, self-driven learner who goes the extra mile to make my work the best it can be. I am kind, calm, and easy to work with.

Before becoming a developer, I managed cafes and catering operations. That made me customer focused, and I quickly adapt to changing business needs by applying resources efficiently.

I am an analytical, empirically-based thinker, unafraid of new concepts. I value engineering tools that are intuitive, effective, and elegantly simple.
